Dear Friend --

One of the many great things about winter is that you tend to spend more time inside enjoying your home. The drawback: it also gives you more time to notice those little projects that seem to slip by during the summer months....like replacing a broken door knob or a missing drawer pull, or maybe even adding a unique touch to a bare spot you've been hoping to fill.

If you haven't visited our newest collection, The Old House Section, stop by and check it out. We carry an eclectic mix of old doors and door hardware, vintage metalwork, lighting and architectural elements.

And you can always count on us for a great selection of one-of-a-kind vintage furniture as well as re-purposed and reconditioned pieces -- in addition to a stunning variety of Persian and Oriental area rugs and one of the most distinctive collections of vintage lighting around. You'll also find an endless array of artful elements for the home to compliment what you already have.

Hope to see you soon!
